

Start Playing Around. Embrace the power of play.

“Play might be the highest expression of our humanity...” (Hara Estroff Marano)

Hey, we're not just playing around here. When you are in the highest expression of your humanity, you can do anything.

What will that be?

What is playing fully for you?

Unleash what's possible.

Join us for a workshop for zesty, feisty, fabulous women.

Let Her Rip: Women Fueled by the Power of Play.

Claim and create playtime in your life
Connect with other trailblazing goddesses
Plug into ways and places to play more fully

Why spend your precious time with this?

Because YOU matter.

When you are playing fully, the universe gets you at your best.

The logistics:

Sunday, September 6th

10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Dragon & Phoenix Bookstore

5531 Roswell Road, Atlanta

<http://www.phoenixanddragon.com>

Cost: $35.00

Contact: Elaine Taylor-Klaus

elaine@touchstonecoaching.com

404.231.0390

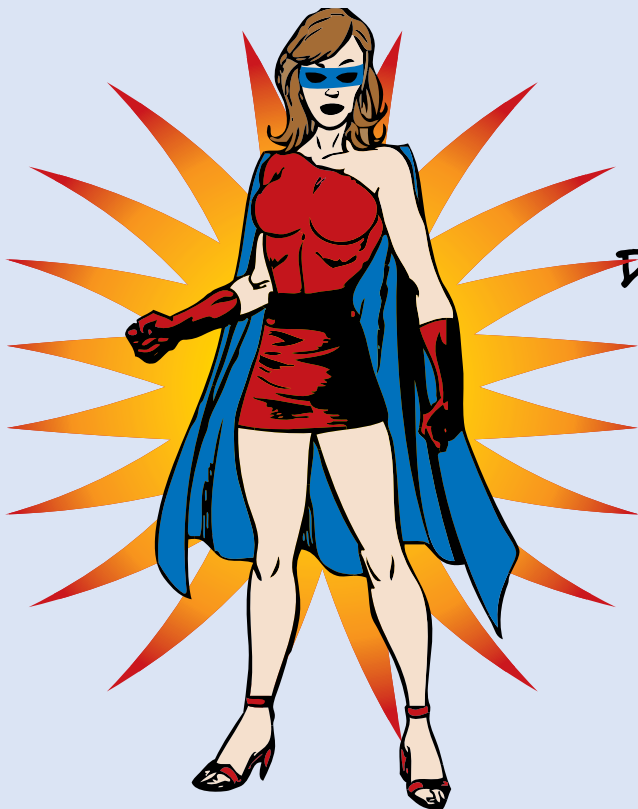

Wanna know who you will be playing with?

Elaine Taylor-Klaus – is fascinated by the synchronicity of the universe, is creative and resourceful, rebels against “reality,” is doggedly determined to show others what they can't see in themselves, and secretly wants to be a ‘Super Shero’

Patricia Edman – is a generous listener, believes we are all connected, is a bit mischievous, a crazy cat lady and secretly wishes she was a soap opera actress.

Rachel Peterson – has a heart that sings and eyes that twinkle, and loves her pink Mary-Jane crocs! She is passionate about learning and creating learning for others.

Sue Seybert – is a quirky soul who loves animals of all shapes, gut-busting laughter, breaking rules, and eating nutella crepes.

BAM!

POW!

WOW!

BAM!

POW!

WOW!

BAM!

POW!

WOW!

BAM!

POW!

WOW!

BAM!